A few books have also been bought and these are shown along with a full list of receipts and expenditures. The public school staff, Miss White, Miss McDonald and Mrs. Hurgard, whose efforts were responsible for the addition of those beautiful pictures for the three school rooms, would be pleased to have the parents of the pupils and others interested in the school work, take advantage of the opportunity of seeing them before they are removed. A great deal of care has been shown in the selection of the twelve reproductions of the works of the most famous artists, and all agree strongly to the children throughout the school and will be a great help in reaching the aim of the pictures in art and the appreciation of the beautiful in life. The following is a list of the pictures obtained: Mabee, The Anchorage; and The Gleaners; Corn, The Lake; Holmes, Can't You Talk; Alquist, Roll in Silent Mabee; Wells, The Shepherdess; Rupp, The Mill; Renouf, A Helping Hand; Vanlyck, Baby Stuart; Rosa Bonheur, The Horse Fair; Siehael, Madonna and Child and Stratford in Awe, the hang of William Shakespeare.

OBITUARY

Richard Blewett.

There passed away on Sunday, December 16th, at his residence in Antrim, in the person of Richard Blewett, one of the best known citizens of Carleton County and a man noted for his rugged honesty and lofty principles, and beloved by those who knew him for his many fine qualities. Deceased, who was born in Cornwall, England, in 1838, came to Canada with his parents when he was eight years old and settled in Napanee. Later in life he moved to Antrim, where he married Miss Margaret Watt, of Torbolton, in 1864. Forty-five years ago they moved to Woodlawn, and during 25 of these years deceased was a well known blacksmith in that village. About seven years ago he moved to Antrim, and resided there until his demise on Sunday. He is survived by his widow and twelve children: Miss Blewett, Antrim; William, in Washington; Mrs. Cathcart, Stittsville; Richard, of Brampton; Mrs. Law, of Phillips, Wis.; Mrs. (Dr.) Nesbitt, Arnprior; John L., of Pakenham; George, of Fitzroy; Mrs. W. OUR DEBT TO UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS

St. John's Day marks another mile post in the progress of Masonry and invites Masons the world over to offer the hand of friendly Brethern to plant the Craft in the native forests of Upper Canada.

Free Masonry in this country owes a debt to the United Empire Loyalists. Many of those hardy pioneers were members of the Masonic Fraternity before their arrival in the territory which now forms Ontario.

On the 8th of September, 1783, seven ships, laden with Loyalists, set sail from New York City for the Bay of Quinte District, where they arrived on the 16th of June, 1784.

Gradually after their arrival, here and there a few faithful brethren assembled and formed Lodges.

In those days the Lodges were few and far-apart. The new settlers and those pioneer members to establish and keep alive the Craft may be judged from the fact that many of them had to paddle from where Belleville is now situated, to Cataraqui, now Kingston, a distance of sixty miles, and sometimes had to walk, to attend Lodge. Others travelled long lonely forest trails to York. When they arrived there were no comfortable Lodge rooms. The meetings were usually held in a room in a little hotel or private house. The fundamental principles and tenets of the Order were appreciated by the brethren who went to the trouble, endured those hardships and spent the time to attend these gatherings. Their fidelity and zeal should be commemorated by the Masons of to-day who enjoy the privilege of taking part in the proceedings of lodge meetings, at convenient locations, in beautiful and comfortable Temples.

In 1792 William Jarvis, a U. E. Loyalist, was appointed the first Provincial Grand Master of Upper Canada by the Athol Grand Lodge of England, with his Grand East at Niagara, which in 1797 was moved to York. Up to 1804 he had issued twenty warrants for lodges in various parts of the province.

On the death of Provincial Grand Master Jarvis, 1817, a Masonic Convention assembled at Kingston, which met from time to time till 1822, when Right Wor. Bro. Simon McGillivray re-organized the Craft under the authority of the Grand Lodge of England, since which re-organization it has been governed by a Grand Lodge and has continued to grow till there are now 100,000 Masons in Ontario.

Next June the United Empire Loyalists will celebrate the 140th anniversary of the settlement of the Province. The City of Belleville in the Bay of Quinte District has been selected as the place for the celebration. This will afford The Masonic Fraternity an opportunity to commemorate their appreciation of the strenuous efforts put forth by those early U. E. L. Masonic Brethern to plant Masonry in this jurisdiction. Plans are being made to hold the largest Masonic parade ever held in the Province, at this celebration.

A TREASURED POSSESSION

One of the treasured possessions in the family of John F. Baker, of the Queen's Hotel, Tamworth, formerly of Millhaven, is an acrostic copy of which we print below) by Mrs. Baker's grandfather, the late John C. Clark, of Ernestown, father of the late P. M. Clark.

The acrostic is printed and is a fine piece of workmanship, done in fancy colors, with an artistic flowered scroll running down both sides of the sheet. The excellence of the workmanship makes this acrostic the most treasured possession in the family, and its value is enhanced by the consideration that this is the work of an old gentleman in his 73rd year.

ACROSTIC

Most swift pass the seasons, and so
Add now eighteen hundred and sixty appears;
Dread winter is here, and of snow
storms the king,
And yet he'll get feeble when birds
softly sing;
Midst music he'll die in the green
lap of spring.

Each season has some little pleasures
in store,
Like shadows they flee and we see them no more;
Enjoy all the blessings the seasons
impart,
Adorning the giver with love in your heart.
Nor murmur if troubles and cares
should annoy,
Or pain and affliction your comfort
destroy;
Restrain discontent and some patience employ.

Joyful seven children your table surround,
And none are deformed, but all healthy and sound;
Now great are your cares, but much greater your love,
Endeavor to train them for mansions above.

Contented and happy may you ever be,
Let piety guide you through life's troubled sea;
And when earthly trials and troubles shall end,
Religion, dear daughter, will still be your friend,
Keep all God's commands and with saints you'll ascend.

JOHN C. CLARK.
In my 73rd year.

NEWBURGH

Slippery, no matter whether applied to things or men, gives one an uncertain feeling. It does not give a sense of security or stability. But, like most things, it has its place. Slippery, when applied to a skating rink, seems quite all right, but when applied to a sidewalk it shows up in all its nastiness. It certainly took a good deal of agility, and sometimes recklessness, to navigate the sidewalks of Newburgh for a few days, and all who attempted it did not come out scathless. Mrs. Fred. Lockwood had the misfortune, during the slippery time, to fall and fracture her arm, and, in her case as in many others, it is the active and useful people that are laid aside.

Mr. W. W. Adams has installed a radio apparatus. This is the third radio plant in the village, and by means these will be permitted to use them into contact with the greatest preachers and musicians on the continent. Truly this is a marvellous age. We have often heard it said that you cannot make civilization by legislation, what about making them by radio. Anyway, it will give us the right to be more critical.

Mrs. Geo. Paul and her mother Mrs. Scriver, who have been spending a few weeks with Mrs. Shorey during the illness of Mrs. Paul, little girl, Cecelia, have gone home to Toronto.

The School Board met in regular session on Monday night to wrestle with the great question of education. Unfortunately there are some details of the work that prevent the minds of the members from soaring above the common things of life; for instance, where all the money is coming from that will keep everything up-to-date and give the young idea a proper chance to develop.

We understand that the L. O. L. has changed its night of meeting from the second Friday to the second Monday of each month.

We have a skating rink. It is in charge of Mr. Vandewater. There is a comfortable house in which to change footwear, etc., and everything possible will be done for the comfort and pleasure of the patrons.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Fifty years soon slipped by especially in the case where two persons have joined their plans of life together and have lived happy and contented with their family and have been an ornament to the community in which they live. This is not a too strong expression to use in speaking of Mr. and Mrs. William Portt, who on the 14th day of January, 1874, were married in the Township of Pittsinaans and resided there since.

When the Golden Anniversary of their wedding arrived on the 14th day of January, 1924, a jolly assembly of descendents of this fine old couple gathered at the homestead where they now resides their son, Robert Arnold Portt, and is following all his father's and mother's ways, and no doubt will prove as good a citizen and as highly christian character, owing to the careful training of the parents. A surprise to the old couple when the family arrived at Portt's Hill, the old homestead, the two sons, Thomas Henry and Robert Arnold Portt, and being joined with them William Martin and H. W. Gallagher, near relatives of the family, presented the old couple with a beautiful Grandfather's clock, which we hope they will enjoy for many years to come. After this little family presentation the aged bridegroom was called upon to make his maiden speech, and like all bridegrooms, he blushingly and timidly expressed his thanks and happiness of being met by his family and below so beautifully remembered in the presentation.

The party then spent the balance of the day and the evening very enjoyably. Many were the points remembered by the now adult children of their young days, where they met with accidents and experiences, corrections and rewards never to be forgotten. Every gate, building, knoll, mount and field on the old farm had its family historical connection.

About midnight the family leaving outgrown the limit of the old homestead, it was necessary to break up the jolly party, which was done by heartily singing in honour of the old grandfather and grandmother "He Is a Jolly Good Fellow", and also heartily expressing the well known loyalty of the family with "God Save the King".

A young sport who answered an advertisement offering to send some wise tips on the horses, received for his dollar a card with this advice on it:

Horses to follow—Hearse horses.
Horses to back—Hobby horses.
Horses to put something on—Saw horses.
Horses to let alone—Race horses.

A victim of chronic bronchitis called on a doctor to be examined. The doctor, after careful questioning, assured the patient that the ailment would respond readily to treatment. "I suppose you must have had a great deal of experience with this disease?" said the sufferer.

The doctor smiled wisely, and replied: "Why, my dear sir, I've had bronchitis myself for over fifteen years."

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church was held in the school room on Wednesday evening, and in spite of the exceedingly rainy weather was well attended. Written reports were received from every organization, from the Cradle Roll up to the Kirk Session. Each and every report showed the affairs of the Church to be in a healthy and prosperous condition. The Sabbath School which constitutes the backbone of the future church showed much progress as reported a school well attended and carefully graded along the lines of the most recent results in religious education.

Financially, St. Andrew's maintains its high and enviable record. The report of the Managers showed the Church out of debt, the mortgage removed, and a balance in the bank after all expenses had been met, of over two hundred dollars. The total received and disbursed during the year amounted to over $6,100.

It is interesting to note that during the present pastorate, though the membership has never at any time exceeded a hundred and fifty members, St. Andrew's Church has met all current expenses, cleared away over six thousand dollars debt on the building, paid four thousand dollars to the Forward Movement, and kept up its missionary and philanthropic activities in an undiminished manner. In all during that time over forty-five thousand dollars have been contributed and disbursed. This has been due in no small measure to the efficiency and devotion of the women who throughout the years, have labored unceasingly, and by their efforts year after year have added greatly to the revenue of the Church.

At the annual meeting, matters arising out of the reports were thoroughly discussed, and plans for the present and future of the Church considered, after which the meeting broke up by singing Old Hundred.

LADIES' MUSICAL AND LITERARY CLUB

The third meeting of the above Society was held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening, and decided the entertainment having been arranged by Mrs. Jewell, Mrs. Milsap, Mrs. Gibbard and Mrs. Switzer. A very interesting programme of old-time British songs and folk-dances was successfully given by the performers, and the applause throughout the evening was most sincere.

The stage was set as an attractive old-fashioned living room, and standing in front of the open fire-place, with lights slimmed. Miss Georgia Robinson "took a Seat on a Settle Tee" light, in a sweet, full soprano. She was encored, and responded with an old English song. Miss Alleen Alanah, minuet, danced very prettily in costume, by Miss Dorothy Johnson and Master Charlie Mills. Mrs. McLellan then sang that lovely old ballad, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" which completed the English part of the programme.

The Irish numbers were given by Miss Frances Dwyer, who gave a beautiful rendition of "Alleen Alanah"; and little Miss Mary Galbraith and Master Billy Powell, who danced a lively Irish reel in costume.

Miss Olive Oooper, a finished pianiste of Belleville, delighted her audience with four numbers, a Scherzo, two of Chopin,—a Valse and a Mazurka—played with exceptionally fine technique and much expression.

A British evening without Scotch music would not be complete, and Mr. Caldwell gave a more than satisfactory response to this part of the programme in the interpretation of "Look Lomand". Although Miss Hilda Duly was unable to be present, Miss Mary Bowerman, with a picked team from the City League, Kingston, and Napanee. The game was exceedingly fast, and very exciting at times. The first period ended 1-1; second, Kingston 2, Napanee 1; third, Kingston 4, Napanee2.

Following the line-up:—

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church was held in the school room on Wednesday evening, and in spite of the exceedingly rainy weather was well attended. Written reports were received from every organization, from the Cradle Roll up to the Kirk Session. Each and every report showed the affairs of the Church to be in a healthy and prosperous condition. The Sabbath School which constitutes the backbone of the future church showed much progress as reported a school well attended and carefully graded along the lines of the most recent results in religious education.

Financially, St. Andrew's maintains its high and enviable record. The report of the Managers showed the Church out of debt, the mortgage removed, and a balance in the bank after all expenses had been met, of over two hundred dollars. The total received and disbursed during the year amounted to over $6,100.

It is interesting to note that during the present pastorate, though the membership has never at any time exceeded a hundred and fifty members, St. Andrew's Church has met all current expenses, cleared away over six thousand dollars debt on the building, paid four thousand dollars to the Forward Movement, and kept up its missionary and philanthropic activities in an undiminished manner. In all during that time over forty-five thousand dollars have been contributed and disbursed. This has been due in no small measure to the efficiency and devotion of the women who throughout the years, have labored unceasingly, and by their efforts year after year have added greatly to the revenue of the Church.

At the annual meeting, matters arising out of the reports were thoroughly discussed, and plans for the present and future of the Church considered, after which the meeting broke up by singing Old Hundred.

LADIES' MUSICAL AND LITERARY CLUB

The third meeting of the above Society was held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening, and decided the entertainment having been arranged by Mrs. Jewell, Mrs. Milsap, Mrs. Gibbard and Mrs. Switzer. A very interesting programme of old-time British songs and folk-dances was successfully given by the performers, and the applause throughout the evening was most sincere.

The stage was set as an attractive old-fashioned living room, and standing in front of the open fire-place, with lights slimmed. Miss Georgia Robinson "took a Seat on a Settle Tee" light, in a sweet, full soprano. She was encored, and responded with an old English song. Miss Alleen Alanah, minuet, danced very prettily in costume, by Miss Dorothy Johnson and Master Charlie Mills. Mrs. McLellan then sang that lovely old ballad, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" which completed the English part of the programme.

The Irish numbers were given by Miss Frances Dwyer, who gave a beautiful rendition of "Alleen Alanah"; and little Miss Mary Galbraith and Master Billy Powell, who danced a lively Irish reel in costume.

Miss Olive Oooper, a finished pianiste of Belleville, delighted her audience with four numbers, a Scherzo, two of Chopin,—a Valse and a Mazurka—played with exceptionally fine technique and much expression.

A British evening without Scotch music would not be complete, and Mr. Caldwell gave a more than satisfactory response to this part of the programme in the interpretation of "Look Lomand". Although Miss Hilda Duly was unable to be present, Miss Mary Bowerman, with a picked team from the City League, Kingston, and Napanee. The game was exceedingly fast, and very exciting at times. The first period ended 1-1; second, Kingston 2, Napanee 1; third, Kingston 4, Napanee2.

Referee—Wm. McLaughlin.

TOWN COUNCIL

The first meeting of the Council for 1924 was held in the Council Chamber, on Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

W. A. Grange, Town Clerk, administered the oath of office, and verified to the election of the members of the Council as follows :—

Mayor—A. MacGregor.
Reeve—Mark P. Graham.
Councillors—M. C. Burgess, T. H. Huffman, W. J. Jewell, W. G. Paul, W. H. Dunbar, J. M. Simpson.

Before the Council proceeded to business, the Mayor introduced Rev. A. J. Wilson, who read a passage from Scripture, having special reference to administrative bodies, after which he recited a short prayer.

The Council then went into Committee of the Whole and confirmed the appointment of the Standing Committees, as follows :—

Finance—M. C. Burgess, Chairman; J. M. Simpson, M. P. Graham.
Streets—M. P. Graham, Chairman; T. H. Huffman, W. J. Jewell.
Fire, Water and Light—W. G. Paul, Chairman; M. P. Graham, M. C. Burgess.
Printing and By-laws—J. M. Simpson, Chairman; M. C. Burgess, W. G. Paul.
Town Property—W. J. Jewell, Chairman; W. H. Dunbar, J. M. Simpson.
Market and Police—T. H. Huffman, Chairman; W. G. Paul, W. H. Dunbar.
Poor and Sanitary—W. H. Dunbar, Chairman; W. J. Jewell, T. H. Huffman.

Council adjourned until 7.30 p.m.

The Council met at 7.30 in the evening.

The full Board was present, with Mayor MacGregor presiding.

The Mayor opened the proceedings by reading his inaugural address, which dealt with proposed municipal legislation for the coming year. This interesting and instructive document which must have taken some time and labor of mind to prepare, will be found in another column.

A communication was received from A. E. Paul, applying for the position of Auditor. Laid on table to be taken up later.

From Walter Metcalf, with the request of a raise in salary for the firemen. Referred to Fire, Water and Light to consider and report.

From Sam Smith, applying for the position of overseer of the disposal works and caretaker of the Town Hall, at a salary of $75.00 per year. Referred to Town Property Committee.

The Mayor requested the Chairman of each Standing Committee to make a few remarks relative to the proposed work in connection with his committee. The responses were short and to the point, economy consistent with efficient work in each department.

BY-LAWS.

The following by-laws were read, on motion passed, and finally became law.

By-law appointing Couns. Burgess, Simpson, Jewell and Reeve Graham members of the Court of Revision.

By-law appointing J. M. Thomson a member of the School Board for the current term of three years.

By-law appointing Dr. R. A. Leonard a member of the Board of Health.

By-law appointing Messrs. D. J. Hogan and Wm. McLaughlin Auditors, at a salary of $80.00 each. The auditing will include the books of the Town Treasurer, Utilities Commission and School Board.

By-law appointing W. S. Herrington Town Solicitor at a salary of $100.00.

By-law appointing Night Constable Cook Sanitary Inspector, at a salary of $400.00.

A By-law was passed in respect to interium appropriations, as follows : Streets $5000; Fire, Water and Light $5000; Town Property $500; Printing and By-laws $500; Poor and Sanitary $900; Market and Police $1200; contingent $1000.

Coun. Burgess brought up the question of the sale of lemon and vanilla extracts of an alcoholic nature.

Coun. Simpson expounded the law as laid down in the Ontario Temperance Act. This act, he said, left a loophole for the indiscriminate sale of this product. Nothing could be done by the Council except to petition the government to amend the law so as to prohibit its sale except under certain conditions.

Coun. Simpson moved, seconded by Coun. Burgess, that the Finance Committee draft a resolution in respect to the sale of extracts, and submit the same to the Council at its next meeting. Carried.

Reeve Graham accused last year's Council of partizanship in withdrawing the Town's account from the Bank of Montreal and placing it with the Standard Bank.

The Reeve moved, seconded by Coun. Simpson, that this account be transferred back to the Bank of Montreal.

The yeas and nays were called for, resulting in a tie, consequently the motion did not carry.

The following accounts were ordered paid :—

An account of the Hydro Electric and Bell Telephone accounts were referred.

The curate of a fashionable church was endeavoring to teach the significance of white to a Sunday School class.

"Why," said he, "does a bride invariably desire to be clothed in white at her marriage?"

As no one answered, he explained, "White," said he, "stands for joy, and the wedding day is the most joyous occasion of a woman's life."

A small boy queried : "Why do the men all wear black?"

61,109 ACCIDENTS.

Last year stands out in the history of compensation in this Province as the year in which there were more accidents reported to the Compensation Board than ever before. In 1923 there were 61,109 accidents reported by industry to the Board, of which 379 were fatal. These figures, on the basis of accident frequency, contrast unfavourably with the 1922 figures, when 50,411 accidents were reported, of which 418 were fatal. The only consolation in the report is the fact that the increase is in accidents of a more minor nature. Up to 1923, the largest number of accidents reported was in 1920 when there were 54,851.

In 1923 benefits awarded amounted to $6,173,761.74; in 1922 to $5,692,896.61, and in 1921 to $6,189,263.49. No one will quarrel with the principle of compensation but the whole community may reasonably stand aghast at the thought that accidents in industry in one Province of Canada are costing six million dollars a year plus lost production and lost wages which may easily double that figure. Most accidents are preventable. A little care, a little forethought, a little common-sense, will prevent thousands of accidents and reduce both human suffering and money loss.

An average of 204 accidents reported every day in 1923 to the Workmen's Compensation Board calls for direct action by management and men to assist in reducing these figures materially for the present year.

CONSERVATION.

A young woman who was reared in an eastern Kansas town read in a poultry journal that poultry-keeping was remunerative, so she decided to try it. She purchased a hen and set her on thirteen eggs. She wrote to a poultry journal that poultry-raising was much to her liking and wondered how long the hen should remain on the eggs. The paper wrote back : "Three weeks for chickens and four weeks for ducks." Later she wrote to the poultry journal as follows : "Many thanks for your advice about the setting hen. She remained on the nest three weeks and at the end of that time there were no chickens hatched. As I did not care for ducks, I took her off the nest and sold the eggs."

Mayor MacGregor's Inaugural Address to the Council

Napanee, Jan. 14th, 1924.

Gentlemen:—

It has been customary for several years for the Mayor, upon meeting the incoming Council, to make some summary of the Council's activities during the year preceding, and also to make some reference to the new matters that should, or are likely to, engage the Council during the current term. It seems to have been a good plan to thus endeavor to link up the old with the new. It seldom happens that a new Council does not contain some new faces to freshen up the old and keep the old from falling into ruts.

The basis of the whole municipal machinery is the question of finance. The Corporation is like any business and must have money to run it, and practically the only source of municipal revenue is by taxation. The only collection the town makes, except through the collection of taxes, are from licenses, rent of Town Hall, fines and fees from the Magistrate, market tolls and the County grant for roads. The question of finance thus resolves itself into the problem of keeping down the rate of taxation to as low a point as is possible, consistent with efficiency. The tax rate last year was 30 mills, of which 14 mills were for schools.

The expenditures are mostly fixed and therefore unavoidable if we are to pay practically the same amount each year for lighting the streets and public buildings and the water for fire protection. The debentures, principal and interest as they mature, must be met and this item cannot be reduced materially for five or six years, when the last of the old railway debentures will be retired.

The largest apparent item of controllable expenditure is for streets. Increased traffic and modern standards require that the roads shall be hard and smooth and free from dust. It necessarily follows that much money must be spended. The public would not tolerate the muddy and unsanitary streets that were formerly good enough.

All the Committees have more or less controllable expenditure and they should early survey their requirements so that when the estimates are up for discussion, we may fairly and accurately measure our requirements.

If the Board of Education would give us its requisition early and the County would strike its County rate not later than the March session, we could make our Municipal levy at least three months earlier than at present, thereby saving considerable bank interest.

Our total debenture debt is $315,000 but if we except the Water Works debentures and the Dundas street bonds, our debenture is very little over $100,000 which would per year to leave us in a good sound financial position, considering our taxable assessment and the permanent improvements we have.

On December 15th, 1922, we had an overdraft of $6,667.62, and the unpaid taxes amounting to $5038.52, leaving our net floating debt $7218.23. This debt would have been very much reduced last year had it not been necessary to spend a much larger amount on the streets than provided for in the estimates. This extra expenditure was incurred by reason of extra rainy and from the necessity of rebuilding some highways broken up by the construction of water main extensions. We should endeavor this year to eliminate all extras for the purpose of liquidating this overdraft.

The sewerage disposal plant was thoroughly overhauled last fall at considerable expense, but the Town Property Committee must take periodic inspections in order that it may be kept at all times in thorough working order. We pride ourselves on the healthful condition of our Town and we must watch that it is kept so.

The care of the poor and helpless through outside institutions is not satisfactory and we should urge the County to immediately make a start towards the erection of a County House of Industry. Considerable money has already been provided for that purpose.

We should bring some pressure upon The Canadian Canners, Ltd., to have them re-open the canning factory plant or lease or sell it to some company that will do so. It is a great disadvantage to the farmers in our district that they have not a factory where they may dispose of their fruit products.

It is very difficult to get industries of the right sort to locate and we should be very watchful of our opportunities for new industries and should urge the Napanee Board of Commerce to give assistance. The Board has not had any open meetings during the past year, but we think that it should have at least two meetings per year at which the members of the County Council should attend, if for no other purpose than to create a real community spirit.

The Eastern approach to the town has been beautified and something further can be done by further improvements in the parking grounds at the falls. Every citizen should take an interest in his municipality, and the more one does any constructive work for the town he lives in, the more he will become attached to it. Service should be the motto of all citizens whether in the Council or not.

In respect to the several Committees, do not let them be one man jobs. Consult those on your Committee and when you come to Council with your plans, your recommendations will have added weight.

I desire further to direct your attention to a subject of a somewhat different character. You will remember that at the Nomination meeting, I made reference to the growing menace to the youth of the town through indiscriminate sale of flavoring extracts. I had no axe to grind by taking the stand I then did, as I had reliably been assured of the Mayoralty for the ensuing year. But out of honesty to myself and to the constituency I represent, I could not do otherwise, and now that we are met as a Council for the first time this year, I desire to reiterate the sentiments of that address and to make it clear that I intend to pursue vigorously my opposition to the conditions there referred to and to you in whom the citizens of the Town have placed confidence and to whom have been entrusted the keeping of the public interests, I look for support in the effort to stamp out that reprehensible business. The hotel men of Napanee who suffered most financially by the passing of the S. T. A. have sought to live up both to the letter and the spirit of that law, while others under the cover of a loop-hole in the act, are making the profit which formerly, and legally, belonged to them.

Gentlemen, the boys of to-day will be the men of to-morrow. Those who are sitting in these Council chairs directing the affairs of the town long before we consider ourselves old and long after our names are but a memory. We have a solemn responsibility, not only to the men and women who elected us, but as well for the generations to follow, and nothing must be left undone that will secure them against those who for mercenary considerations would weaken both mentally and physically the youth of the land. The government has already been approached, and must be approached again, for in their hands alone lies the power to remedy the law.

But after all, gentlemen, you must recognize with me that, even though we do secure legislation to cover the evil of essences, it will depend on the good will and public interest of the citizens themselves, and, as a Council is clear, but the final responsibility must rest, as it always rests, on the citizens themselves, and, in this case, particularly on the business men and business women of the town. I am concluding I know we have a good Council, and if we work faithfully and in harmony, we will get results.

Yours sincerely,
A. MacGREGOR,
Mayor.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

1709 B. Ocean Ave,
Santa Monica,
California.
January 7th, 1924.

The Napanee Beaver,
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—We are now living in Santa Monica, only a block from the Pacific Ocean. We are having summer whether here now.

Yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, we saw a $4,000,000 fire, when the three Amusement Piers were burned at Ocean Park, Pier Amusement Pier, Fraser Pier, Licks Dome Pier, The fire destroyed buildings and landmarks, including the Dome Theatre, valued at $500,000; the Rosemary Theatre, $250,000; Bon-Ton Ballroom, $300,000; the giant Dipper Concession, recently erected, $100,000; Pickering Amusement Pier, $1,000,000; Lick's Dome Pier, $750,000; Fraser Pier, $250,000; drug stores, soda fountains, fish markets, "hot dog" stands, and other concessions destroyed were estimated to have been worth $1,000,000.

A southwesterly wind kept the fire within its own area of the four blocks, after the piers burned down, aiding the firemen in their battle to save the buildings on the east of the promenade. Thirty firemen were hurt and 100,000 persons from various outlying towns were attracted to the scene by the flames and columns of smoke. Fire companies from Los Angeles, Sawtelle, Beverly Hills and Culver City were called to aid the Santa Monica Bay district fire department, when it was reported it was beyond control of the beach firemen. It burned all day yesterday. We are only a mile from there. The conflagration was believed to have started in a small fish market at the foot of Fraser Pier. It spread with rapidity from Kenney Street, Ocean Park, through four blocks of amusements to Navy St. on the ocean side of the promenade.

We are sorry to bother you again about sending our Beaver. Would you please send it to the above address and oblige. We will look forward every week for The Beaver. Enjoy it very much.

Yours sincerely,
CLARENCE W. CARD.

The prosecuting attorney was examining a negro witness.

"Now, Mose," he said, "tell us what you know about this fight?"

"Well, boss," began Mose. "I think I—"

"I don't want to know what you think. Tell us what you know."

"I think——"

"I told you not to tell us what you think."

"But, boss," said Mose, apologetically, "I ain't no lawyer. I can't talk without thinking."

Mrs. Mary DesRoche Spit Blood

Some of the results obtained by users of Carnol are almost beyond belief. Carnol, if taken according to directions, will relieve almost any case of a run-down nature. But as disease develops slowly, it takes time to eradicate it. No wonder Mrs. DesRoche recommends Carnol after what it did for her:

"An attack of 'flu in the fall of 1918 left me in such a weakened condition that I could not walk across the kitchen. For nearly two months I spit blood and my misfortune was so marvellous that at the end of six months I weighed 130 pounds—the most I ever weighed in my life. I can safely recommend Carnol to anyone in a weakened and run down condition, as being the best as well as the most palatable tonic on the market today. My little girl aged eight years took a cold in the head and chest. She was so bad she could scarcely breathe. I gave her Carnol in hot water and the next morning she was able to get out of bed for the first time in several days."—Mrs. Mary A. DesRoche, Summerside, P. E. I.

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

Dreco Has No Equal

Mr. Hugh Ross Says That From His Own Personal Experience With the Famous Health Builder That Quickly Restored His Run Down System to Vigorous and Glowing Health.

"For two years I have suffered from stomach trouble," says Mr. Hugh Ross, of Napanee, Ontario. "Everything I ate would ferment and form a gas that made me miserable. There were times when I would even have to lay off work. My appetite was poor and I couldn't sleep at nights and my kidneys were all out of order causing such pains in the small of my back that I could hardly stoop over.

"My joints would get stiff with rheumatism and I was continually taking laxatives. During the past few months I was so weak that I had literally to force myself to go to work and although I spent nearly all my earnings on medicines, nothing did me any good until I started taking Dreco.

"I have only taken two bottles, but am feeling like a new man. I can sleep soundly every night and eat anything I want, something I haven't been able to do for a long time. My kidneys are in fine shape and the rheumatism has left my joints entirely. In my opinion, has no equal and it gets my praise wherever I go."

Many a hard working man suffers as did Mr. Ross, finding his earning powers impaired and life a misery and it is all due to a run-down system that Dreco speedily corrects and regulates to normal, healthy action. Try this grand herbal remedy to-day. Its pure herb, root, bark and leaf juices will benefit all the organs of digestion and purify the blood. It contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Napanee by Wallace & Co., and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

Milo, King of Athletes.

Milo was an ancient Greek athlete of whom it is related that he once carried a heifer of four years to the stadium on his shoulders, killed it with a blow of his fist, and afterwards, it is added, ate the whole of it in one day. His death is characteristically related, says the Detroit News. When enfeebled by age he attempted to rend open the trunk of a tree partially split by wood cutters, but the wood, closing on his hands, held him fast, and he was attacked and devoured by wolves. Milo here off the prize six times in the Olympic games and on an equal number of times at the Pythian. He was appointed commander-in-chief of the army against the Sybarites, and at the battle of the Crotalus, 511 B.C., his great strength is said by Diodorus to have given the victory to the Crotoniates.

"So you want to borrow a little money, eh?"

"I certainly do, Mr. Grabcoin," said the impecunious citizen.

"Well, well! I say, I can remember the time when I didn't have a dollar to my name."

"That's only a reminiscence for you, Mr. Grabcoin, but in my case it's current history."

Wife—Your Honor, he broke every dish in the house over my head, and treated me cruelly.

Judge—Did your husband apologize or express regret for his actions?

Wife—No, your Honor; the ambulance driver took him away before he could speak to me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Port Mann, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and unstrung, had backaches and no appetite and was run down. I had sleeplessness. I tried many medicines but nothing did me any real good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a stranger to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. C. GREAVES, Port Mann, B. C.

Definite Policy of Immigration for Canadian National Railways

DR. W. J. BLACK

Dr. Black is a man who is thoroughly respected, both for his opinions and his achievements, throughout Canada. He carries a lasting and genuine enthusiasm into his work, and as a quiet but eloquent and convincing speaker he is well fitted to broadcast the message of his important mission.

WHEN, a little more than a year ago, Sir Henry W. Thornton, K.B.E., was chosen to head the Canadian National Railways, one of his first acts was to put into motion machinery for gidding in and elaboration and development of Canada, particularly along the lines of the National System. He realized that one of the crying needs of Canada was for more population, and he has since been insisted, on several occasions, as saying that if Canada had a population of twenty-five million people, Canada would have no railway problem.

The organization of a department to look after colonization and development was entrusted by Sir Henry to Mr. W. D. Robb, Vice-President, and Mr. Robb at once proceeded to build up the necessary organization to look after this most important national work. Investigations, conferences and careful planning gradually brought into being an effective department the effort of the year culminating in the engagement of Dr. W. J. Black, Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization in the Federal Government, as Manager of the Colonization and Development Department of the Canadian National Railways, with headquarters in London, England. That was early in the fall of 1923. Dr. Black proceeded at once to Great Britain, where he spent some weeks carrying out a series of investigations. These completed, he returned to Canada, and a general conference of all officers of the Department was called and a definite plan of colonization and development was drawn up and announced. This was the first definite announcement on immigration to be announced in Canada.

Dr. Black's Career.

In engaging Dr. Black, the Canadian National Railways secured an officer who is probably better acquainted with the immigration needs of Canada, and the best methods of remedying those needs, than any other man in the country. All his life he has been connected with the agricultural industry and has run the gauntlet of all its intricate phases. He was born and brought up on a farm in Dufferin County, Ontario, and in 1902 graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College with a Bachelor's degree. At his graduation he was appointed editor of the Farmers' Advocate, Winnipeg, Manitoba, and he held this post for two years. In 1905 he joined the Government of Manitoba as Deputy Minister of Agriculture, a post which he left two following year to become President of the Provincial Agricultural College. He remained in this important position until 1910, when he became Commissioner of Agriculture for Canada. At the conclusion of the Great War in 1918 Dr. Black was appointed Chairman of the Soldiers' Settlement Board of Canada, a position he held until his appointment, in 1921, as Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization for Canada.

The Policy.

There are seven points to the program which has received the approval of Sir Henry W. Thornton, and the principles of policy will be placed into effect immediately. Dr. Black sailed for England again on January 5th, and on his arrival in London his department commenced to function actively. The thorough character of the policy can be judged from a recognition of the seven principles, which are as follows:

1—To influence the immigration and satisfactory settlement in Canada of the largest possible number of people of productive capacity that the country can absorb and assimilate.

2—To contribute to the dissemination of information concerning the vast and extensive natural resources of the Dominion and the widespread opportunities for industrial development, so that capital may be attracted from other countries and invested where enterprise will be legitimately rewarded.

3—To promote the land settlement of new Canadians under conditions that will ensure the maximum possibility of success in their farming operations, and enable them to enjoy such social and religious institutions as are necessary to individual happiness and contentment.

4—To encourage improvement in agriculture, that more diversified methods may be employed in farming, and that crop, livestock, and dairy production may be increased in accordance with market demands and prospects.

5—To assist by organized effort in the immigration of young people of desirable type and character, especially from Great Britain, and in their placement on selected rural homes where they may become qualified to participate in constructive activities and become citizens of high obligation to Canada.

6—To aid in the development of new opportunities for employment and to facilitate every effective means of settling immigrants physically, industrial and culturally.

7—To co-operate with the Federal and Provincial Governments and business organizations throughout the Dominion in promoting all measures calculated to contribute toward an increase in immigration of adaptable people and in their settlement under the most favorable conditions possible.

THE TABLE KNIFE.

Origin and Development Since the Stone Age.

The knife with which you cut your meat to-day is the result of a slow development from the most remote ages. The human race cannot long have existed before necessity prompted the use of a rude cutting instrument with which game might be killed and divided.

The knife was chipped out of flint or stone. Sometimes it was made from shell or the bones of animals or sharpened pieces of tough wood.

For ages the same implement served indiscriminately on the field of battle, in the chase and at meals. Finally it took different shapes according to the use to which it was to be put.

When history opens, men are already using knives of copper. Somewhat later tin was added to the copper, and bronze instruments resulted. Bronze continued in favor until the time of Caesar, but iron had come into use a thousand years before. The steel of Damascus gradually took their places.

At the beginning of the Christian era table knives were still without favor. That they were used to a limited extent is indicated by the fact that ivory-handled knives were found in the Roman ruins, besides dishes of food. There are certain monuments depicting banquet scenes, at which the guests were provided with knives, but ordinarily the food was cut before being placed upon the table. We learn from Clement of Alexandria that by the second half of the second century the use of knives at table had become common in the Roman empire.

But certain it is that until the 14th century the table knife did not appear in a class by itself. Up to that time the guests attending a dinner party provided their own knives or used their fingers. Within another century, however, the table knife became so popular that three distinct kinds of knives were manufactured.

During the first half of the 17th century Cardinal Richelieu, the founder of the French Academy, became offended by the rude manner in which pointed knives were used and thereafter caused his knives to be rounded. Before long the fashion was generally adopted, and the pointed blade, which, in lieu of a fork, had been useful in picking up pieces of meat, was abandoned. Since the 17th century the form of table knife has remained substantially as we know it.

Nice and Polite and Modest.

A minister was recounting some of his amusing experiences in marrying people. "There's an old custom," said he, "that the bridegroom shall kiss the bride immediately after the marriage ceremony be over. It's a good, practical custom, for it serves more handily than anything else that I know of to dissipate the awkward pause that almost always follows a simple, informal ceremony. For this reason I keep the custom alive.

"One day a man whom I shall call Blank came to my parsonage to be married. Mr. Blank was a pompous, consequential little man. The prospective Mrs. Blank was a fine, wirtsome girl. After the ceremony Mr. Blank in spite of his pomposity, did not seem to know just what was the next thing to do, so, as is my practice in such emergencies, I said, 'My dear sir, it is your privilege to salute the bride.' He turned around, extending his hand formally said, 'Mrs. Blank, I congratulate you.'"

The Legionaries.

No other regiment in any existing army undergoes such Spartan training as the Foreign Legion, one of which a detachment is now in the fighting line. When at their headquarters, Sidi-bel-Abbes, the legionaries are marched off for occasional training trips of 200 miles or more, in continuous daily stages of 24 miles, with only five minutes' halt every six miles. Gen. De Negrier, who commanded them in Madagascar, said: "Some soldiers can fight, the legionaries can die." Their record shows how they fall in action. In the Crimea, in Mexico fighting for Maximilian, and in Spain, their losses were enormously heavy. Of 4,000 legionaries sent to aid Queen Christina in 1866 against the Carlist, only 500 returned to Algeria.

Household Hints.

Roll biscuits thin and use two cuts for each biscuit, laying one on top of the other. They are dainty and break evenly.

When frying cornmeal mush dip each slice in cracker dust. This makes a brown, crisp crust and also prevents the lard from splashing over the range.

Before using tea spread it on a sheet of paper and place it in a warm —not hot—oven for a quarter of an hour. This improves the flavor and strengthens it, making the tea last longer.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. Delia Dawson, who died on January 12th, 1922.

The one we loved is now at rest,
Her true fond heart is still,
The hands that would have helped us best,
Now lie in death's cold chill.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear Delia,
That we do not think of you.

Sadly missed by Mother and Sister. 3ap

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Lester Wagar, who died Jan. 15th, 1923.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever wakes to weep,
A calm and undisturbed repose,
Where powerless is the fast of foes.
Asleep in Jesus; oh, how sweet
To be for such a slumber meet,
With holy confidence to sing
That death has lost its venomed sting.
Asleep in Jesus, peaceful rest,
Whence waking we're supremely blest;
No fear, no woe shall dim that hour
That manifests the Saviour's power.

Little Known Island.

Very few people have ever heard of the little French Island of Saint Pierre de Miquelon. It is almost lost in fogs and icebergs off the coast of Newfoundland, and yet it has a most interesting history. It is a French possession and the first authentic year of a Frenchman in Newfoundland was that of Jehan Denys in 1506; and in 1536, Jacques Cartier erected the King's arms. Several ships from France and England "at the islands of Saint Pierre de Miquelon." In the first half of the seventeenth century, Normans, Bretons and Basques competed in daring expeditions for France's fishery. From January to March, 1544, at least two ships a day left Harve, Rouen, Honfleur or Dieppe for Newfoundland and Saint Pierre de Miquelon. In the autumn everyone returned to his port of embarkation, where he passed the winter, and Saint Pierre was only a fishing station.

YARKER

Since the cars have been stalled for the winter the real fast horses in this burg have gone on the rampage. It started with Gib. Curry's pony, Clear Grit, when he spilt Miss Patsy on the road. Then came Mrs. (Dr.) Oldham with their noted stand by driver, Clipper. When Mrs. Oldham was driving up Main street so nicely the other day, Clipper took a notion when he reached the village square, at the east end of the bridge, to back into Mr. J. M. Wright's furniture store, and might have done so if it had not been for the town pump. And when Clipper started back to the stable if he had jumped into the river instead of going over the bridge Mrs. Oldham might have been spilt into the cold water. Shortly after this, while the Methodist minister was in the act of hitching his fast readster, Firefly, to the cutter, she decided to return to Mr. A. Martin's, where she had spent the summer eating grass. It was funny to see the parson standing, lantern in hand, watching his detached driver breaking the speed limit on the way to her summer home. Just the other day, while Pastor Winter was calling, he left his speedy charger, Slim Jim, on the street outside of one of the homes, when he took it into his head to warm up a bit and made a classic sprint up a couple of streets, turning into Mr. W. Babcock's yard and just knocking a part of the dwelling house down in the act. Some time the same day the owner came up and found his property in the midst of a bunch of fence wire, just on the very edge of "Smith's Gulch". The excitement was hardly over when Wellie Benn and Gib. Hoffman came down from Moscow with their thoroughbred racers, kind a lookin' for Manny Foster to take the road for a tryout with his great prize winner, but he was out of town. Who said that Yarker had signed up with Rip Van Winkle last November? We just protest right now that the old burg is not asleep all the time.—We are sorry to report Mr. James Freeman and Mrs. H. Cambridge on the sick list.—The Standard Church people are holding meetings this week.—The Rebekahs held their annual installation of officers on Tuesday night, and report a good time.—The I. O. O. F. will hold a similar meeting on the 23rd inst.—Our enterprising coal dealer, Mr. W. D. Wilson, has been delivering a lot of A1 coal this week.—George Richardson and P. Stewart are home for holidays.—We have to report the death of our old friend and neighbor, Mr. Samuel Gough.—Luther Furrs is seriously ill with some acute disease of the spine.

A TRAGIC FIGURE.

Maeterlinck Dreamed of a Day When War Would Cease.

One of the most tragic figures of the day, alongside even those grey ones in the ranks of widows and orphans, is Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian dreamer, who saw "an awakening of the soul" in these times, and who predicted in a wonderfully optimistic vein a day, not far distant, when the uglier facts of human existence, not only war but poverty; not only hatred but disease, would be thrown off as an old, worn-out garment. With what emotions must Maeterlinck view his little dreamland of Belgium to-day!

In his volume of essays, "Life and Flowers," there is one entitled "The Gods of War," in which he visualizes all the powers of war. This is one passage:

"What monstrous form, what gigantic shadow shall we attribute to take one instance alone, to the power of explosives, those recent and supreme gods, which have just dethroned in the temples of war all the gods of the past? With what family of terrors, what unforeseen group of mysteries shall we connect them? Melinite, dynamite, panclastite, cordite, and roburite, Ruffite and ballistite, oh ye indescribable spectres, by whose side the old black powder that struck terror into our fathers, and even the mighty thunderbolt, once held the most awful symbol of divine anger, become mere gossipy, good-natured old women, a little ready to strike, perhaps, but almost inoffensive, almost maternal, of your countless secrets not even the most superficial has been laid bare; and the chemist who compasses your slumber, even as the engineer or artillery-man who awakens you, is in total ignorance of your nature, your origin, your soul, the springs of your incredible bound, and the eternal laws which you so suddenly obey! Are you the result of things imprisoned since the beginning of time; are you the gleaming transfiguration of death; are you the eruption of hatred or excess of joy? Are you a new form of life and so accent that you consume in a second the patience of twenty centuries? Are you a flame from the enigma of the worlds that has found a fissure in the walls of silence that enclose it? Are you an audacious loan from the reserve of energy that supports our earth in space? Do you, for that unequalled bound of yours towards a new destiny gather up, in the twinkling of an eye, all that has been stored, all that has been gathered and prepared in the secret of rocks and seas and mountains? Are you soul or matter or a third state still unknown to life?"

And so on! How would Maeterlinck idealize those explosives to-day? Not in the terms used above. Indeed, it will be for voices such as Maeterlinck's that we will listen to stilly for, when the din of battle subsides.

Appalled by "Machine War."

The London Daily Mail in a Paris despatch quotes a wounded officer thus:

"This is not a war of men; it is a war of machines. There is an appalling soullessness about it that is positively inhuman. Men turn handles and death flies out in large bandles. That is what this battle has been. Artillery is the one battle in the Marne and the Aisne.

"No one can even conceive what the battle has been who has not seen it. Here could one see a man kill one another by heaps and hecatombs. They would sicken at such wholesale slaughter. They would cry: 'We are soldiers, not butchers. A battlefield should not be an abattoir. Only machines could accomplish such work to destroy men as locusts have to be destroyed when they sweep over fertile lands. Only automatic death dealers without heart, pity or remorse could carpet the earth with the dead in this frightful way.' "

Thought He Recognized Them.

A lunatic was being escorted to an asylum on a railway line and consequently journeyed to it by train. It was raining hard, and as they passed a large field in which some hundred several men grouped together. Some of them had umbrellas raised over their heads, and others were looking at them and "putting." Turning to the attendant by his side, the "soft" one remarked, "What are the people doin'?"

"Playing golf," answered his burly guardian.

"True," said the other, after a pause, "hadn't we better stop for them?"

Wine Jelly.

Put the white of an egg, a big tablespoonful of powdered gelatin, a cupful of water, the juice of a lemon, a cup of sugar, three of lemon juice and a little stick cinnamon in a saucepan with the rind of half a lemon. Beat with an egg beater until the mixture reaches the boiling point, pull to the side of the stove, cover and leave for ten minutes. Strain through cheesecloth, add a third of acupful of sherry and pour into two long-stemmed glasses or small molds to harden.

WILD ANIMALS IN WAR.

Antwerp's Zoo Has Been a Heavy Sufferer Because of Siege.

One of the tragedies of the siege of Antwerp that is necessarily far-reaching is the fate of the animals in the Zoo lest they should escape.

According to one of the best-known controllers of zoological gardens five million dollars may easily be spent in fitting up a thoroughly representative zoo, everything depending on the extent to which the rarest specimens are represented.

The principal occupants of a zoo are those which the public are most accustomed are not necessarily the most valuable. For instance, there is a well-known animal called the fossa, found in Madagascar, which is worth twice as much as a leopard. It is a small animal, very savage and most uncommon, looking not unlike a small puma. Most people would hardly stop to notice it and yet its value is $200 even to-day, when the wild animal market has been so upset by the war.

The giraffe, in the opinion of Mr. Albert Jamrach, the famous London animal dealer, is as valuable as any animal, its price being from $1,500 to $2,000. Lions greatly differ in price. A full-grown African lion sells for $500 and the cubs for $60 each, while the females may be purchased for as little as $250. The Indian lion, which is not so imposing a beast, is worth $350.

The most expensive lion to buy was the cape lion with its magnificent black mane with which nature had specially endowed him to ward off the cold. If such was obtainable to-day specimens would bring $2,000, but unfortunately there is none to be had.

The Bengal tiger brings $500 and its mate about the same price. A young elephant landing four or five feet makes $1,000; the full-grown elephants are rarely exported, their use for large engineering in the Burma plantations rendering them too valuable. Also the Indian rajahs buy any that are available for use in their armies and for tiger-hunting.

The Indian rhinoceros is valued at $2,000 or $2,500, and the African rhinoceros at about $1,000. The Indian specimens have got to be very scarce, and their value is on the upward grade for that reason.

Forty pounds will buy a white Polar bear and $50 a brown bear. The latter is cheap because no one is particularly anxious to have him, as he is such a dangerous customer. The small Malayan bear, known as the sunbear, is worth $60. Thirty pounds will buy an Indian leopard and $200 a Persian leopard.

Hyenas are a drug in the wild animal market. They may be had for from $20 to $50, according to quality. The jackal is very low in the scale of values, his worth being estimated at $10 or $15.

The European wild cat, found in Hungary, is very scarce, and one bought at a high price would be cheap. Mr. Jamrach makes the interesting statement that wild cats are still found in Scotland, and are caught by means of spring traps. As they are sold fresh, and there is consequently no guarantee that they will live in captivity, they only bring two or three pounds. They look like a grey tabby cat and are extremely savage, spitting with rage at the onlooker.

The hippopotamus, found in the Nile and in the Sudan desert, is worth from $1,500 to $2,000. The mother is usually killed and the young one taken alive and fed with milk on its journey to the nearest seaport down for shipment to Europe. Jaguars bring $250 each and pumas $100.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only destroy these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

HIS AUNT THE SPUR.

Relative In Ontario Urged on the New Minister.

When Hon. E. J. McMurray, the new solicitor-general of Canada, was being sworn in at Winnipeg recently, he held in his hand a telegram which read as follows: "Do justice, love mercy and walk humbly. Keep your head level, and your feet on the straight path."

It was from his Aunt Susan down in Ontario, a maiden lady who had taken an interest in him when he was a tall, raw-boned youth. As his friends gathered around him with their congratulations, the new solicitor-general proudly exhibited the telegram, and pledged himself to act on her advice.

In his youth he worked as a hired man for a Scotch farmer, who kept him going from four in the morning until ten at night; but even as a farm laborer Ed. McMurray had a resolve to complete his public school course, and eventually became a lawyer. And it was this proud Aunt Sue who induced him finally to go to high school at St. Mary's, Ontario.

Through with high school, he was unable to take a course at Osgoode Hall, so "Mac" went west, settling in Saskatchewan, he broke in broncheos, stooked, talked cows, anything for a living. Acquiring a little money, he went to Normal School at Regina, qualified as a teacher, and spent several years teaching in foreign settlements. In this way he made sufficient money to go to Winnipeg and study law.

Eventually he was called to the bar. He has been a successful lawyer. He specialized in criminal law. Of twenty-six alleged murderers defended by him, not one went to the gallows. But the case which brought him most fame was the defense of the Winnipeg strike leaders.

Mr. McMurray was a likely federal minister to take the oath of office in Winnipeg. It was found less expensive to send an officer from Ottawa than to have the new solicitor-general go east.—Toronto Star Weekly.

How Mackenzie Escaped.

A racy incident in connection with the escape of William Lyon Mackenzie from Toronto to the frontier after his defeat in 1837 was related recently by Mrs. Colin H. Campbell of Winnipeg, wife of the former Attorney-General of Manitoba, and a granddaughter of Mackenzie.

Mrs. Campbell, in speaking of the Philip Triller homestead, near Trafalgar, said she remembered it as a large colonial frame-house, painted yellow. "It has historical interest," she said. "In 1837 when there was a ransom for the 'rebel' leader, William Lyon Mackenzie, he was sadly hounded for a few days and nights under this hospitable and friendly roof. When the officers of the Government were searching for Mackenzie they were so charmingly entertained by the seven beautiful daughters of the household that the great Mackenzie eluded by Mr. Triller, made his escape, not before, however, he was directed whether to go and was provided with provisions he made his way to George Ghent's, at Freeman, and Gilebrt Davis', near Burlington station, from which place he made his escape, disguised as a woman, in Miss Rachael Davis' gown and bonnet. She afterward became the wife of Reeve John Buck.—Toronto Globe.

"Why do you never put on the small inner stalks of the celery, Delia?" asked her mistress.

"Do you like 'em, mum?"

"Yes, indeed."

"So do I."

SUFFERINGS OF U. E. L. PIONEERS PORTRAYED

W. S. Herrington, K.C., Addresses Woman's Canadian Club.—Speaker Urges Co-operation to Make Celebration Next Year a Success.

"We are British by conquest not by settlement and for the most part Britishers were the first settlers in the country south of the," was the opening sentence uttered by Mr. W. S. Herrington, K.C., of Napanee, when last night he addressed the members of the Women's Canadian Club of this city. The subject of the address was "United Empire Loyalists" and it was handled in a most interesting manner. The leaving of the United States by a band of Loyalists who came to Canada, the privations they endured were vividly portrayed by the speaker who is well versed in the subject. In 1774 there was a rebellion in the States caused chiefly by taxes being levied without restrictions. There were two camps, one camp was that of the rebels who were in favor of armed force, the other camp were the Loyalists who did not desire to be estranged from Great Britain.

Suffer Greatly.

The Loyalists suffered great persecutions being driven from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and their property confiscated. The headquarters of the Loyalists had to be evacuated and as a result they left for various parts, some to Canada and some to Bermuda and twenty-six thousand went to Nova Scotia. A party of Loyalists were despatched to the head of Lake Ontario and on the shores of the Bay of Quinte they settled. This was in 1784, and it took nineteen days to make the trip from Sorel, Que., where they had wintered. At Adolphustown a number of Loyalists landed. It is hard to picture what this country looked like 140 years ago. It was untouched by the hand of man, and the Indians. The landing of scores of Indians under with Loyalists at Adolphustown was graphically described by Mr. Herrington. The leaders were addressed in military style and when the call was called foreign names were in evidence. The task of allotting townships to the various groups of Loyalists was by no means easy. The only weapon they had was the ship axe and with this they started out to hew their homes from the forest. The homes were log cabins, for doors a blanket was used until later saw mills were erected and doors made. There is a distinction between Loyalists and United Empire Loyalists. A decree was issued by Lord Dorchester in 1789, and afterwards reissued by Governor Simcoe in 1796 that all Loyalists who had joined the Royal Standard before the Treaty of Paris was signed, should, upon proof of the fact, and upon registering their names before the Land Board, be thereafter known as United Empire Loyalists, an honorary title carrying with it certain benefits and privileges. How differents and arose between neighbors were settled was explained by the speaker. The mill stone was a difficult problem, business now done by our county and municipal councils of to-day.

Settlers in Hastings.

Some Loyalists settled in Hastings County and they endured great hardships often suffering from hunger. The Loyalists brought little furniture with them, many had none, but ingeniously was furniture made. In order to make a table it was necessary to hollow out a large stump and pound the wheat into flour by aid of stone. Bread was baked in a tin reflector and meat was roasted on a spit with a pan beneath to catch the drippings. Light for the home was first obtained from pine knots and later tallow dips which were flexible and held in position by a slit in a stick. Homemade clothing was the order of the day. They grew their own flax and by a device would spin and make the cloth. They tanned their own leather for the making of boots.

In concluding his address Mr. Herrington spoke of how elections were conducted for a week by the open vote. According to records there is in minute book of the Sidney Township bearing the date of 1791, but it was possibly a later date as paper was not made in this country then.

The approaching U. E. L. celebration in Belleville this year was suggestive and co-operation of all was desired to make it a success. The Mayor elect of this city was enthusiastic in this regard and should be encouraged in his efforts.

Mrs. (Judge) J. F. Wills, who presided, on behalf of the Club tendered a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Herrington for his capable and interesting address.

The singing of the National Anthem closed the proceedings.—The Daily Intelligencer, Belleville, January 10th, 1924.

Could Not Straighten His Back

Then Quebec Man Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. E. D. Tremblay is Delighted With the Results Obtained.

Pointe Aux Outardes, Que., Jan. 14th, (Special).—The sterling value of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a kidney remedy is fully proved by following statement of Mr. E. D. Tremblay of this town.

"I have suffered for nearly six years from rheumatism and bad kidneys and was not able to stand up straight. I took 2 boxes of your Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now completely relieved of my trouble."

What Mr. Tremblay states is all that has ever been claimed for Dodd's Kidney Pills—that they are good for sick kidneys.

It is astounding how some people will go on suffering day after day with aches and pains, rheumatism and backache. They suffer because they are not aware of the fact that they can get relief. Strengthen the kidneys, which are the source of the trouble and these pains vanish. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They heal and strengthen them so that they do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood.

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA.

There is interesting reading for every sportsman in the February issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, including as it does stories and articles dealing with deer and moose hunting, fishing and canoeing, photographing wild life, animal stories, guns and ammunition, talks on outdoor life, articles on trapping, and an interesting kennel department.

"A Diary of the Limberlost Hunting Club" by Harold Tarlton is a good account of this fraternity club and is written in an original style. Bonnycastle-Dale the well known Canadian naturalist of Nova Scotia, continues his article on "Camera Hunting before the Season opens in Nova Scotia" which is very interesting to the author's ease and ability which make his contributions outstanding. "An Indian Enoch of the Marshes Hunter is an interesting yarn, while "Touring the Wilderness" by Bayley is an article dealing with the outfit necessary for a trip into the wilds which will be of interest to all those who are planning trips. J. W. Winson has his first article on "Bird Man" which opens a series on Canadian Birds, a subject on which this writer is an authority. W. D. Bates, a trapper of long experience has his department filled with interest for the trapper, while F. V. Williams has contributed an amusing account of "A Tale Twice Told." W. C. Motley and F. H. Walker are also represented with good departments, the field trials forming an especially interesting feature of "Kennel." Guns and Ammunition is particularly large this month with first class articles by E. T. D. Francis, Ashley A. Haines, Fred J. Seiff, and a large number of queries and answers.

THE VALUE OF THE MALE BIRD.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

A bred-to-lay male bird should have four things, each of almost equal importance, and the absence of any one of them will adversely affect the offspring. The four characters are breed type, bred-to-lay breeding, constitution and vigour.

The male bird should be fairly typical of the breed he represents. If he does not possess breed type, the general type of the flock will not be uniform and the sale of his progeny, especially their male progeny, will be very limited. No good poultry breeder purchases male birds simply because they are male birds, for in the male either sets or scatters type in the poultry flock.

That the male should be of the right breeding is of the greatest importance if high egg production is the desired object. There is no sure way to failure than to introduce a male bird of a poor producing line. The degree of success met with in the egg production of his daughters depends almost entirely on the amount of high producing ancestors he has behind him. A dam should, if she produced 200 eggs or over in her pullet year, and if his grandsire has laid 200 eggs or over in his pullet year, be much the better. His sire should be the son of a high producing female, and the more high producing females the male side of his pedigree carries, the greater are his chances of passing on that desirable character to his progeny. So important is this character that good bred-to-lay strain can be ruined in one season by an inferior male.

Constitution is very necessary if the stamina of a high producing flock is to be maintained. To improve by laying ability of a flock is wasted time unless the birds have the constitution to withstand long years of high production. A male of poor constitution seldom if ever passes on rugged constitutions to his offspring. The right male bird is strong, well grown for his age, and that stands straight on his legs. He should have a good full breast, good depth of body, and above all, a good masculine head.

Vigor is also very important for without vigor the hatchings from the matings would necessarily be limited. Vigor in the male bird will give good fertile eggs that will hatch strong chicks, the kind that can kick the shell to the other side of the incubator, dry off rapidly, become fluffy, and get well along the way to maturity with a low death rate and the least trouble and greatest profit to their owner.

The Oil of the People.—Many oils have come and gone, but Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil continues to maintain its position and increase its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and kept it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Those who have been benefited by it and would use no other proposition.

Like a Grip at the Throat.—For a disease that is often spoken of as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful remedial agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as inhalation is drawn through it. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

A man who had lived several years on a tropical South Sea Island came north one winter. He sought out a coal dealer and asked him the price of a ton of coal. The dealer told him.

"What's the matter?" whispered the former South Seas man. "Have they passed a law against selling that, too?"

House Like Steamship Bridge.

An extraordinary-looking dwelling is to be seen in Algarta, near Bilbao, in the north of Spain, and is called "Casa Barco," or "house boat," because it is built to resemble a steamship's bridge. It was probably erected by a retired sea captain who felt like a fish out of water until he had established for himself the same environment to which he had been used during his active career at sea. One can imagine the old gentleman taking his evening walk to and fro along the lofty bridge, scanning the surrounding country with a sailor's eye and half inclined now and then to ring for "more speed" or to send an order down the tube to the steersman.

Too Late For That.

Complainant (making a charge against his wife)—The hussy bit a piece out of my ear, your honor.

Judge—I will bind her over to keep the peace.

Complainant—You can't; she's thrown the piece away.

Mutual Regrets.

"I'm so sorry your wife couldn't come to our party. We'll miss her terribly."

"So will I. I'll have nobody to remind me on the way home of the ball breaks I made."

Setting Him Right.

The poet was busy at his desk.

"The fire of genius is heaping," he muttered to the casual caller.

"Not so you can notice it," replied the rimester. "That's my cheese you smell."

Well-meaning Stranger—Perhaps I can help you—there are one or two things I can tell you about your make of car.

Motorist—Well, keep them to yourself; there are ladies present.

WHEN TIMES ARE HARD

HOW PEOPLE HAVE MADE ENDS MEET IN DAYS GONE BY.

Some of the Schemes Employed to Put to Rout the Wolf at the Door Have Served to Tide Over the Period of Strain. While Some Have Led to Fortune In After Years.

Many ways of making a living when times are hard have been adopted by live men who refuse to sit idle when the factory gates are closed against them. While some of these schemes tide over the bad period only, others have led within them the germ of future fortune. Some methods employed are fakes, consequently their run is short. Want of quent their run is short. Want of capital prevents craving disabilities, but this handicap has been overcome by a prodigious use of native talent and years.

Odds and ends collected from fish stores and bakeries in ovens and mixed into fine for poultry grit, complete the time and fed the family of a blacksmith, during a spell of slack work.

Making and selling gravy salt secured a competence for a tailor. He purchased large quantities of salt, boiled down, pepper and burnt sugar until the whole were a thick paste, then, cut into small pieces and packed in wax paper he sold them from door to door.

With but ten or few dollars a woman purchased a hammock and flannel. She made up a set of swadding clothes and presents craving disabilities, but this handicap has been overcome by a prodigious use of native talent and years.

YELLOW PINE.

British Columbia Threatened With Early Depletion of This Tree.

British Columbia is threatened with early depletion of its yellow pine forests.

There is probably thirty-five years supply of yellow pine of all grades and only ten to fifteen years' supply of merchantable timber of the quality being cut at the present time.

These facts are revealed in a report just made public by the Forest Branch of the Provincial Department of Lands. The Southern States, for years the world's principal source of yellow pine timber, are reported to be gradually nearing exhaustion of that species and now British Columbia's resources, with normal cutting, have only a few more years before then unless prompt measures are taken to ensure reproduction.

"Since our virgin stands of yellow pine consists mainly of mature timber and advance reproduction, we will be faced in the near future with large areas of young growth and very little saw material," states the report. "The Vernon district contains the main reserve, one mill cutting about half of the total output of the province. There is still considerable waste, mainly due to cutting standard-length logs and the use of sound pine for logging improvements where inferior material is available."

Owing to the relatively high commercial importance of yellow pine and the rapidly diminishing supply, the Forest Branch undertook an investigation last year, to note the characteristics shown by the species throughout its range, the rate of growth, the effect of fire, logging, and insects on the crop prospects in the future. The Branch reached these conclusions: That all young growth should be guarded in logging operations; that seed trees should be left wherever possible; that fir should be removed and the pine left in fir-pine stands; that trees to be cut should be blazed below stump height and distinctively branded, and that all slash should be piled on the stumps and tops away from young growth and burned at a time when least damage will be done to advanced reproduction.

Canada and Australasia.

During the past two years the business done by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine between Canada and Australasia has more than doubled in value. Steadily since the time, not quite four years ago, when the first ship of the Canadian Government lines carried the first cargo across the Pacific to the sister nations of the British Commonwealth, trade has developed with a steady increase that marks a striking step forward in commerce within the Empire.

Such, briefly, is the encouraging message brought to Canadians by George E. Bunting, Australian manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, and general traffic agent for the Canadian Australasian Railways in Australia and New Zealand. For some years past Mr. Bunting has represented the Canadian interests in the two Dominions of the Southern Pacific, and is thoroughly familiar with industrial and economic conditions in both countries. With headquarters at Auckland, he has travelled extensive in Australasia, and has done much toward the building up of trade with Canada.

"Industrial conditions throughout Australia and New Zealand, in the main, are very satisfactory," he says.

As to the trade with Canada, conditions are very satisfactory, the figures dealing with exports and imports tell their own story. From Canada we get automobiles and manufactured articles of all varieties, while in Canada come wool, sheepskins, hides and other natural products. There is still much that can be done, however, in manufacturers in both countries would be more active in investigating markets and sources of supply. There are a number of Australian products which would find a ready market here, while the same conditions obtain as to Canadian products."

Trade of Dominion.

An increase of over three hundred million dollars in the total of Canadian trade in the twelve months ended October 31 last, as compared with the previous twelve-month period, is shown in the monthly summary issued recently by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

For the twelve months which ended October 31 last the total of Canadian exports and imports was $1,920,721,554, while in the period ended October 31, 1922, they amounted to $1,569,491,350. The increase therefore amounted to $351,320,204. Total imports during the period just ended were $912,459,278, of which goods to the value of $691,897,491 paid duty and $219,561,817 entered Canada free. In the previous twelve-month period the total imports amounted to $740,261,771 divided into $497,716,089 dutiable and $242,545,662 free.

Exports of Canadian commodities during the twelve months ended October 31 last amounted to $994,426,069. In addition to this foreign goods to the value of $13,836,207 were exported from Canada, making a grand total of $1,008,262,276. The total value of exports in the period ended October 31, 1922, was $829,139,579, of which $815,520,510 was Canadian and $12,609,069 foreign.

Yields in Canada.

The average yield of wheat in Canada this year is 20.34 bushels an acre, according to a second estimate compiled by the Bureau of Statistics. The wheat yield is approximately three bushels an acre higher than in 1922. The total estimated crop for the year, in comparison with the 1922 crop, follows: Wheat, 69,761,000 against 399,786,400; oats, 571,273,000 against 71,865,300; rye, 26,926,000 against 32,373,400; mixed grains, 29,090,000 against 37,767,700; flax, 6,842,000 against 5,933,500.

"I'm afraid father-in-law doesn't care much about me," said the young man. "He finds fault with most everything I do."

"Nonsense," replied his wife. "You don't know his ways. He is treating you just like one of the family."

INFANT PRODIGY ONCE; NOW $23-A-WEEK CLERK

William J. Sidis, son of the late Dr. Boris Sidis, internationally known authority on psycho-pathology, has become a resident of New York, although a somewhat obscure one, at the age of twenty-six, the boy prodigy of 1909 has become a mere cog in the workaday world of 1924. For $23 a week he is working as a clerk in the statistical division of an uptown office. In 1909 young Sidis, a rosy-cheeked eleven-year-old boy in short trousers, delivered a lecture on the fourth dimension before Harvard professors and instructors of mathematics. His subject was not a mere parlor trick that he had acquired by rote. He proved this by answering freely all the questions the astonished professors could ask.

Could Read and Write at 2.

At the age of two William James Sidis could read and write; at seven he passed the Harvard Medical School examinations in anatomy, at that time having mastered elementary mathematics; at eight, when he could speak French, Russian, English and German, and possessed a knowledge of Latin and Greek, he passed the entrance examinations of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; at ten he entered Tufts, and at eleven—about the time he lectured before the professors of mathematics—he entered Harvard. The boy received his bachelor of arts degree in 1914, at the age of sixteen. After two years in the school of arts and sciences and in the law school, he became an instructor in mathematics in Rice Institute at Houston, Tex. That was in 1918. On May 1, 1919, he was arrested with eleven others in a Socialistic demonstration in Boston. The charge against him was assaulting an officer. He was found guilty of rioting and was sentenced to eighteen months in the House of Correction. He appealed and defaulted, two warrants being issued for his arrest. Then he dropped from sight.

Gets Adding Machine.

About six months ago persons in New York who were interested in young Sidis tried to find a job for him. They finally succeeded in placing him with the concern for which he is now working, but not without difficulty, for he insisted upon being given work that did not require too much thinking. To-day there is an adding machine beside the desk of the adult personality that at eleven years of age was puzzling Harvard professors with original theorems concerning the fourth dimension. The true proportions of the tragedy that young Sidis represents may not be measured at a glance. There was the death at Portsmouth, N.H., last October of his father. The person who conveyed the sad news over the telephone to young Sidis was berated for troubling him about something in which he was not interested. He did not go to the funeral and he has shut himself off from contact with his mother. In a treatise published the year his son entered Harvard Dr. Sidis fairly bombarded "modern system of education" with epigrams. His brochure was entitled, "Philistine and Genius".

Flayed Education.

Here are some exerpts from it:

"We regard the child's mind as a tabula rasa, a vacant lot, and empty it all our rubbish and refuse."

"Our educators are owl wise; our teachers are pedants, and all their ambition is the turning out of the smooth, well-polished philistines. It is a sad case of blind leading the blind."

"What can be expected of a nation that inflicts the fate of its young to the care or carelessness of young girls, to the ire of old maids and to pettifogging officials, with their educational red tape, discipline and routine?"

"The time is at hand when we shall be justified in writing over our educational shops 'Mediocrity made here'."

"The savage compresses the skull of the infant, while we flatten the brain and cramp the mind of the young generation."

As one of the tide of humanity that ebbs and flows at 9 and 5 each week day in New York, young Sidis is distinguished only by being less careful of his appearance than the average New York clerk. Chided recently for a evening lack of ambition, he said:—

Values His Privacy.

"All I want is a little greater margin than I have, so I may put something aside for a rainy day."

"But don't you care about books, the theatre, girls, automobiles, all the things that are denied you on $23 a week?"

Sidis merely shrugged his shoulders.

When interviewed the other day by the New York Tribune, young Sidis was wearing a cheap brown suit, much too tight for his flesh frame. He had not been shaved; his reddish moustache was a ragged fringe that appeared to have been whacked off with a pair of unwieldy scissors. His mop of mouse-colored hair was in need of trimming. His necktie was in a hard knot that did not come within inches of his collar. He insists that he is not going to have his privacy invaded, and says that if people pester him he will move on to some other place. It is certain, however, that he will not go to the country.

Stumps was shaving himself, when he made a slight cut on the end of his nose. He called to his wife for sticking plaster, and was told to look in the sewing basket. At the words everyone who entered his sanctum smiled. Considerably annoyed, he asked his partner if there was anything wrong with his appearance.

"I should say there is," was the reply. "What's on your nose?"

"Sticking plaster."

"No! It is the label from a spool of cotton, and it says, 'Warranted 300 yards'."

"My life," said the egotost in a sober mood, "is not a path of roses."

"That's strange," remarked his critical friend, "you are always throwing bouquets at yourself."

Clerk—Did the umbrella you are looking for have a hooked handle?
Owner—The entire umbrella was hooked.

GLENVALE

The worst snow storm of the season came on Saturday and Sunday last, making the roads impassable for the election on Monday, until the roads were ploughed out.—Who says the "glen" is dead? Well, when it comes to election it is quite alive. Seven or eight teams were drawing voters, and we were successful in having two of our neighbours elected, W. Gordon as Deputy Reeve and Byron Gordon for Councillor for the coming year.—Mrs. G. Jeffrey spent Sunday last at Mrs. J. B. Aikenbrack's, Bethel.—Margaret Elderbeck who has been in town since Christmas, has returned home.—Miss Isabelle Jeffrey and Mr. J. E. Ford visited at Mr. and Mrs. Perry Aikenbrack's, last week.—Miss Mildred Orser is in Kingston.—Harvey Clark has returned to Dexter, N.Y., after spending the holidays under the parental roof.—There were no services in either church last Sunday owing to the bad roads.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jeffrey spent tea at Mr. T. Purdy's, Cataraqui, last Tuesday evening.—Mr. J. F. Ford returned to New York State, after spending the holidays at the home of Geo. Jeffreys.—Russell Ellerbeck is all smiles; a nice girlie has come to stay.—Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Jeffrey and baby, Lucies, and Doc. Aitcheson visited at Mr. George Jeffrey's, on Wednesday evening.

WEST PLAIN

The farmers in this vicinity are showing their appreciation of the recent snow by hauling wood to Napanee.

The West Plain Sunday School accepted the cordial invitation to the home of Mr. John Beltonn, and spent a very enjoyable evening there, on Friday, January 4th. During the evening a Reference Bible and gold pencil was presented to Mrs. W. G. Pringle by her Sunday School class. The presentation was made by the Misses Tressa Denison and Velma Davis, and the following address was read by Miss Violet Pringle:

Dear Mrs. Pringle,—We, the members of your class, are gathered here to-night to give you this Bible and pencil. We wish you to accept them as a loving token of your faithful interest in our class. We realize that it has oftentimes been a heavy task and yet always a sweet one, since it is in your Master's service, but you have always been willing and cheerful. May you be long spared to encourage and direct us to become true children of the Heavenly Kingdom.

Signed on behalf of the class,

MR. BELTON, Supt.
TRESSA DENISON.
VELMA DAVIS.

HAWLEY

The old year passed away rather stormy. We hope the last day will take away the new year.—Owing to the storm, the concert held here on New Years Eve, was not very well attended. A number of those present had considerable trouble getting home, as the roads were in a dangerous condition.—The programme given by Mr. Cook, the great Indian entertainer, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Sexsmith, of Bath, was thoroughly enjoyed by all. A musical dialogue given by little Miss Mildred Wales and Master Clarence Parks, and an address by the chairman, Mr. J. Sexsmith, was also much appreciated. Only those present can realize what Cook is himself.—The regular meeting of the W. M. S., which was held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Smith, on Wednesday, was well attended.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Parks and daughter, Florence, of Anderson, and Mr. W. W. Davis, of Napanee, spent Thursday of last week at Gordon Parks'.—Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Creighton at J. C. Creighton's, on Wednesday.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wamsley and son, Harold, at J. C. Creighton's, on Friday.—We are glad to hear that Mrs. Clayton Fretts, who has been on the sick list, is improving.

HARLOWE

The weather is still quite spring-like, and with the roads beautiful everyone is improving the time, some by drawing wood and others pulpwood.—John Deline is sawing wood for different ones with his wood saw.—The dance at Wesley Goode's, on Fridays night was much enjoyed by the young people.—Mr. Harold Clancy and Mr. Andrew Clancy spent Sunday at Mrs. C. N. Bott's.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott made a business trip to Arden on Thursday.—Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Thompson called on Mrs. Estella Bott one evening this week.—Miss Gladys Thompson spent Friday evening with her friend, Charity Black.—Mr. Wm. Marshall returned home on Friday evening from Hurmon; also Paul Baker, who has been employed as cook.—Mr. Oral Miller at Thos. Whiteman's, on Sunday.—Claude Parks at Jacob Miller's.—W. Black at Mr. Grey's.—Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Thompson and family at Thos. Thompson's, on Sunday.—The Perry and Vogan lumber men are busy hauling their timber to sawing places.

Buried Treasure!
LONG AGO, men seeking a safe and secret depository for their money and plate, dug a hole in the ground and buried their treasure, often to lose it from one cause or another.
TODAY, even after centuries of progress and enlightenment, there still are people who prefer to hide their money in "secret" places, only to lose it by fire or theft.
The safest depository for your money and valuables is the one everybody knows about — The Bank.

WINNIPEG YOUTH GETS KISS FROM LOCAL LADY

A Canadian Press Winnipeg despatch claims that a Winnipeg youth refusing money reward was rewarded with a kiss on Saturday when he returned a handbag belonging to Mrs. H. LETTER OF THANKS.

To the President, Secretary and Members of the Maple Leaf Institute.

We wish to send to your Society the sincere thanks of the trustees, teacher and ratepayers, for the drinking fountain and door mat which you so kindly gave to our school, and to thank you for your interest in our school.

Signed on behalf of S. S. No. 6, South Fredericksburgh.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

To Mrs. John Copeland and family.

We, the officers and members of L. O. L. No. 159, wish to convey to you our deep sympathy on the death of your dear husband and father. To us he was a brother whom we shall greatly miss. Long before many of us who are now members, had entered the mystic portals of Orangeism, he had become a member, and for more than sixty years, he took an active interest in all the work and welfare of the Society. As we miss his genial kindly presence, we realize that your loss is greater than ours, and we pray that the memory of his long and kindly life, may be your consolation, and may the Divine Father of us all make the sympathy which we, and others have expressed, a comfort to you in the sadness of your bereavement.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge,
H. A. CLOSE, W.M.
W. H. CLARKE, Chaplain.
